The Advantages of Using PVI vs. In-house Washing

Why do it yourself when PVI Industrial Washing offers your company so many advantages?

Better Quality and Consistency

We help you sharpen your competitiveness in the marketplace with certified quality you can depend on every time. Because parts washing and dunnage washing are our speciality, we can complete your job with maximum efficiency. Our trained personnel and state-of-the-art equipment give you peace of mind that your project will be done right and on time.

More Space in Your Plant

Every square foot of factory space is valuable — so why waste it on dunnage or parts washing? Free up space for business expansion and other more important uses when you turn to PVI Industrial Washing.

More Time For What You Do Best

Why spend your valuable time deciphering and staying current on EPA regulations? We dispose of all hazardous waste from the washing process, saving you hours of hassles.

In addition, we save you the time of buying washing agents and chemicals, giving you more time to attend to more important business. Because we dedicate all of our time to washing, we have become experts in the field. This allows you to focus on being experts at what you do best.

Cost Savings

You save money on hourly rates and fringe benefits for extra employees. There's no need to train extra workers to operate your washing program. And you don't have to maintain an ongoing training program to compensate for vacations, sick days and turnover.

In Depth Look at Our Washing Operations

Dunnage Washing

PVI Industrial Washing has custom built its equipment in order to provide the ultimate flexibility in servicing its customer. This allows for the cleaning of all shapes and sizes of dunnage. Additionally, PVI can provide extremely clean and dry final results, packaged to the customers' specifications. All performed with quick turnaround and utilizing environmentally friendly methods. We also provide both pick-up and/or delivery service.

Parts Washing

PVI Industrial Washing has equipment, materials and methods to clean and dry all types of metals and plastics including: brass, aluminum, stainless steel, galvanized coated steel, etc. This is accomplished by having in-house capability of belt, ultra sonic and submersion types of washing. The results of the processes are parts provided to an extremely clean standard of cleanliness. Once again using the custom built equipment PVI provides the ultimate flexibility for the cleaning of all shapes and sizes of parts. Service is always performed with quick turnaround, in an environmentally friendly manner. As always, products can be packaged according to the customers' specification and both pick-up and/or delivery service can be provided.

Derusting

PVI Industrial Washing offers its customers an ultra sonic/citric acid based derusting process. This process removes only the rust from the part. All other exposed metal along with their tolerances will not be affected. Afterwards, all types of rust inhibitors are applied to the part for rust protection. The total process uses no harsh acids and leaves no powder residues on the parts. Once again, all shapes and sizes are accommodated, packaged to the customers' specifications. All services are performed with quick turn around and utilizing environmentally friendly methods. We also provide both pick-up and/or delivery service.

Secondary Operations

PVI Industrial Washing offers its customers many value added secondary operations. Some examples of these services are aluminum etching, passivation, high pressure deburring, and cleanliness testing. This allows PVI's customers to minimize their vendor list and maximize the quality, on time services they receive from PVI. All secondary operations are packaged to customer specification, picked up and delivered on time, every time. Call one of our PVI sales associates to see what value added services PVI can provide for you.
